Contents Why You Should Take a Business English Test Today To Test Your Knowledge and Proficiency Now that you've been studying and using business English for a while, do you have any idea how much you've learned and progressed since you started? A good way to find out is to take a test. I know, I know. The word "test" may sound scary to many of us. But it's really not so bad. Taking a test is a great way to check your knowledge and understanding of specific language areas such as vocabulary and grammar, and your proficiency in using specific language skills such as reading and writing. If you think of it as a fun exercise to check your overall progress in your English learning, you might even enjoy it. To Pinpoint Areas for Improvement The results of your test will pinpoint areas you need to improve on. From your test results, you'll find out your strengths and weaknesses in business English are. Let's face it, we can't be good at everything. Even top students and power users of English in the business world will find that there are certain language areas they're better at and some that could use some improvement. That's why it's a good idea to test yourself. Then you'll find out where your weak language areas are and you'll know to focus on them to take your business English to the next level. To Find Out What Level of English Course to Take After reviewing the results of your test, you may decide to take a course to get more guidance and to speed up your learning curve. In language learning, it always helps to have a teacher who can guide you, point out your mistakes and answer your questions especially in the areas of speaking and writing. If you're planning to take up a business English course or sign up for extra classes, you may have to take a placement test to get you into a course level that's suitable for you. This holds true if you want to use an online learning platform that uses different skill levels, whether that's a vocab driller like Memrise or a virtual immersion platform like FluentU. For Academic, Business or Immigration Reasons There could be other important reasons you need to master business English within a short time period and be ready to take a test such as TOEFL or IELTS to prove your proficiency. For instance, you may wish to enter an academic program like acquiring a business diploma or degree in college or university. Maybe you need to know English for global business communications at your business or job, if you're looking for a job or if you're planning to live or work in another country. Whatever the reason, I promise that the more practice you get by testing yourself ahead of time, the more prepared and confident you'll be when the day of the actual test comes. If you take note of where your weaknesses are in your practice tests, you'll be able to work on strengthening (improving) those areas before you sit for the actual test.
